To Mr. Bernard and Mr. Loprete

If the class of 2012 has learned anything in our four years at North Reading High School, it is to appreciate all of the efforts and support provided by the administration. Whether it be exchanging smiles to Mr. Bernard and Mr. Loprete in the hallway, seeing them at a Friday night football game, or at the annual Masquers musical, their undeniable support has not gone unnoticed. The tight knit community of North Reading High School is a reflection of the commitment displayed by our administration. Their commitment is shown based on their openness to search out challenging opportunities to change, grow, innovate, and improve. They dare us not to be afraid to take risks and to learn from the accompanying mistakes. They were able to enlist others in a common vision by appealing to their values, as well as foster collaboration by promoting cooperative goals and building trust with our student body. Mr. Bernard and Mr. Loprete set an example for the students of North Reading High School to behave in a similar manner.

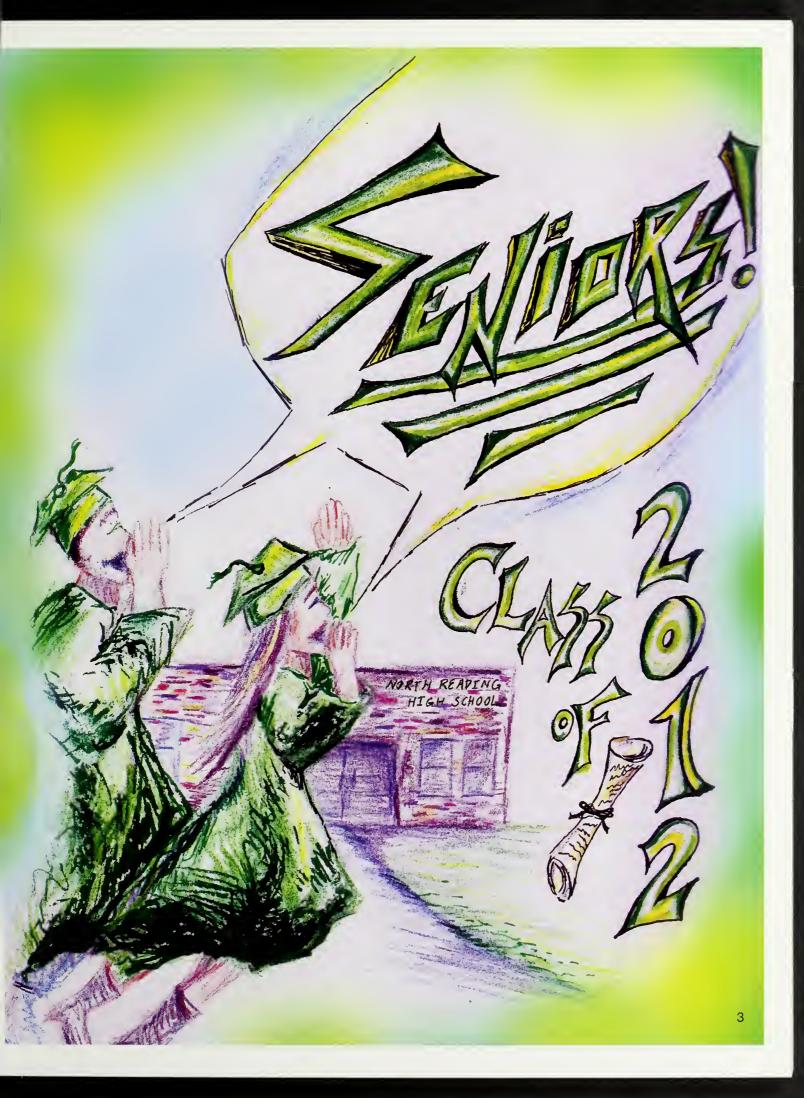

Throughout our four years at North Reading High School, each and every one of us strived everyday to achieve our own personal goals and set a good example for our peers. However, the students of North Reading High School are lucky to be able to witness the character and leadership displayed by Mr. Bernard and Mr. Loprete. There are very few people throughout our lives that have influenced what the definition of leadership truly means, and these men signify this definition every single day at North Reading High School. The students admire the way Mr. Bernard runs the school as a principal and all of the qualities he possess. The class of 2012 is more than grateful to be able to observe the way both of these men uphold the most natural qualities of character everyday, setting an inspiration of how we should all carry ourselves. Leaders are people who will impact our daily lives, but also will impact our future. It has become obvious the impact that Mr. Bernard and Mr. Loprete has had on our class as a whole, and we appreciate being able to exemplify their standards of character in the future.

Regardless of the changes that have taken place inside and outside of North Reading High School throughout our four years, the one thing that has remained the same is the attitudes and love for our North Reading community. Thank you for the memories that will last a lifetime, and providing us with solid stepping stones into our future. Your support for our sports teams, clubs, town, and genuine interest in the lives of each and every student has made our experience unforgettable.

"We all have our time machines. Some take us back, they're called memories. Some take us forward, they're called dreams."

Sincerely, The Class of 2012

Mr. Frank Carey

The only icon more recognized than the "hornet" at North Reading High School is Coach Frank Carey. For forty-eight years, Frank Carey has been a consummate educator: teaching generation after generation of North Reading's youth not only lessons about physical education, but invaluable life lessons as well. He always challenged students to push their limits and strive for greatness. Citizenship, Intensity, and Participation was his moniker. Coach Carey's legacy will be a lasting one with all whom have had the privilege to learn from him, students and faculty alike. We wish Coach Carey all the best in his retirement. --Brett Kunze

Yearbook Staff

2012 graduates of North Reading High School, here is the staff that made your senior year memorable through the pages of this book. They are computer experts, skillful artists, kind babysitters, creative designers and dedicated Tuesday night yearbook staffers, who worked and worked to bring this piece of art together in amazing technicolor. Their efforts are stunning here, so enjoy this and remember that you were a part of a great community. And, in case you dare forget, pull this book down from the shelf and take a look; it's all here.

Shannon O'Rourke

Shannon Mary Quite contrary, How does your garden grow? With miles and miles of beautiful smiles, I'll cherish where ever I go. With trusted friends until the end, And loving family too. Always a pet you'll want to get, Maybe we'll start a zoo! A thrilling book for a sunny nook. A scary movie to watch in the dark. A soccer match, a volleyball game, Or a bicycle ride in the park. A run around the lake would be nice, Or a swim in the ocean foam. Don't forget to call or text, I'll always bring you home. Yes your garden grows rather full, And it's bound to get fuller yet. I think in the future it will surprise us all, Even you I bet!

Congratulations with all our love, Mum, Dad, Steph, Pam, Garrett and Nana xoxoxo 134

Brittany Leonard

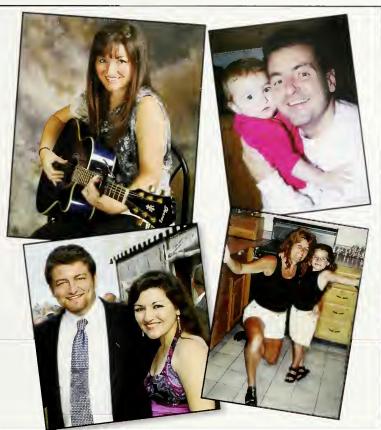

Brittany,

Our little girl has grown into an impressive and talented young woman! Graduation is a special time to reflect on all you have accomplished, the creative spirit that has emerged and how much you have grown musically and personally. It is also a time to look ahead, to imagine the possibilities and to create a vision for your future with excitement and happiness.

You have touched us, inspired us and made our lives complete. Congratulations on all your accomplishments. Embrace the future and confidently pursue your dreams with passion, dedication and drive. There is virtually no limit to what you can achieve!

We love you more than you will ever know.

Love, Mom, Dad and Jeff

Kaylea Flanagan

Kaylea Danielle,

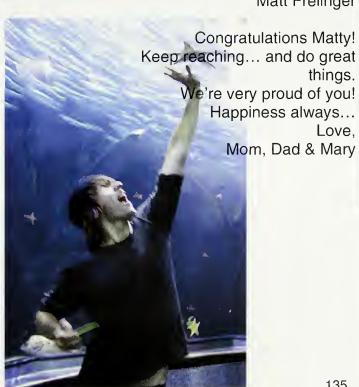

We are very proud of the beautiful young lady you have become. We applaud your dedication and the diligent effort you have invested towards your High School education. We know your faith in God will be your compass and protect you throughout your life. What a wonderful daughter you are!! We are very proud of you!!

Music was her life, it was not her livelihood, and it made her feel so happy and it made her feel so good. And she sang from her heart and she sang from her soul. She did not know how well she sang: It just made her whole.

> Wishing you the best on your road to find out! Dad, Deb, Jeremy, Lindsy, Denver, & Zevon

Alyssa

Dear Alyssa,

Your hard work, dedication, talent, and love of learning will take you great places. Wishing you all the success you deserve in life. We could not be more proud of you.

Love -Mum, Dad, and Sean

KAITLYN RUBIN

Our Sweet Girl,

We are so proud of the person you have become and what you have achieved! You are as beautiful on the inside as you are on the outside! CARRY...

All the joy and laughter you have in that "electric" smile

All the love and goodness you have in your "warm" heart

All the kindness and thoughtfulness you have in your "sweet" character

ALWAYS REMEMBER ...

Never lose sight of your dreams

Hard work and determination allows you to accomplish those dreams

To believe in yourself, you can do anything!

You are our shining star in the sky, Keep shining as you go out into the world.
We know you will shine bright!
Congratulations!

We love you so much! Mom, Chris, Patrick and Bailey
